TIMES-VIRGINIAN.

Governor Trinkle has finally spoken on the extra session of the Legislature and he will not convene it unless two-thirds of the members ask it. They will hardly ask and so the road bond issue is dead until the Legislature meets again in 1924 At this time the people will demand that the salons give to the state a sane and conservative bill on the matter of financing the State's highway. It may be the road Commissioner will observe that Appomattox county is on the route of one of the State highways by that time.

The regular December term of Appomattox circuit court convened on last Friday the day after Thanksgiving day. The Bar was so "full" that the court ordered the Sheriff to provide them all with seats. The bar naturally craves a unit of enquiry which it is rumored will be forthwith issued.

Buckingham

Approximately 300 school people attended the school conference in Richmond in round numbers 2985 registered as delegates, noted speakers, noted musicians, noted educators were there galore and the social, business and education al features mark this as the greatest conference ever held in Virginia. The retail merchants of Richmond tendered a banquet consisting of six courses to the visiting delegates. This banquet was served at Murphey's hotel and was hugely enjoyed. Mr. Featherston, of Appomattox and Mr. Twyman of Appomattox were in Richmond greeting their old friends and forming new acquaintances.

Mr. Luther L. Gilliam chairman of the county school board of Buckingham county has gone on a trip to N. C. and the regular meeting of the county board will not take place on the 1st Monday, but will be held on the 2nd Monday in December.

Mr. Henry Groseclose and Miss Mabel Groseclose were in attendance on the meeting of the conferences in Richmond

Mr. Russell Moon, Jr., has charge of the Cunningham school near Norwood.

The Andersonville graded school was closed last week on account of diphtheria among the pupils

Miss Evelyn Garnett and Messrs. Hugh and Cook Garnett were all in Richmond Thanksgiving day.

I saw a man who said the crops near Lynchburg were suffering for want of rain.

Mrs. H. T. Ferguson has been appointed a teacher in the high school at Prospect, Va.

Governor Trinkle chairman of the building committee which has in charge the erection of the great building on the corner of the capital square has written to all the members of the legislature asking their permission to add four more stories to the new building which is to be used as state offices. I never saw as much building and improvement as is going on in Richmond at this time.

Mr. Bernard Camden was taken to Richmond to be operated on, but he developed a case of pleuracy and was in a precarious condition when his father came to Richmond to see him.

Furniture for the schools in James River district has been purchased.

Miss Fannie Haskins was a visitor in Lynchburg Thanksgiving day; the Appomattox teachers were only allowed one day and that was Thursday.

Vera

Thanksgiving passed off quietly in this neighborhood. The Elmrods were out in full force and quite a number of city folks spent the day with their friends in the "sticks".

Dr. Christian, Walker O'Brien, Dabney Anderson and "Wash" Riley are among the number who have gotten their turkey.

One party of hunters jumped a deer, but didn't succeed in bagging it.

Rome randal who was not satisfied with getting the game out of the traps that he found while hunting broke the traps of one of our trappers. This shows a Satanic spirit, but we can't expect anything else these days the "Prince of this World" is on his "last leg" and is trying to do all the mischief he can before being bound for a thousand years as we shall expect him to be within the next four years

Mr and Mrs W E McCarthy and family, also Mrs Edgar LeFew and Miss Elizabeth Mays all of Lynhhburg, spent Thanksgiving day with the family of Mr. and Mrs. W T. Childers.

Miss Evelyn O'Brien who is attending school at A. A. H S spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walker O'Brien.

Mr. and Mrs. James Miggingson, of Norfolk, are visiting relatives in this vicinity.

Miss Addie Frances Childers who is teaching near Spout Spring, spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Childers.

Mr. and Mrs C. G Anderson and daughter, Helen, spent Thanksgiving with the family of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kinney.

W. H. Byrne, of Appomattox, spent Thanksgiving in the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Childers gave a party Friday night to the young people of the neighborhood in honor of their daughter, Olye, who is attending school in Lynchburg and who was home for Thanksgiving and her house guests, Misses McCarthy and Mays.

Mrs. Charles Wallace and son, Jr., have returned to their home at Gladstone, after a visit of a month to Mrs. Wallace's father, A Nuttycomb.

H. W. Kinney is spending a week in and around Danville with his brother, T. P. Kinney, and they expect to kill all the birds in Patrick county.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Megginson R. W. Abbitt and Dabney Anderson are in Richmond this week attending the R. F. D. carriers' convention.

"Prohibition will come to all people not in the matter of drink only, but in the forms of evil. It is useless to try to make men good by acts of parliament or of congress or by the edicts of any rulers what is wanted is prohibition of the devil and thank God that is something to which God will see in the near future. Then all those things by which the devil beclouds the minds of the people and allows them to indulge in their fallen natures and by which profiteers and human vampires live and fatten will be brought to an end. Everything contrary to the will of God will be destroyed and those who have used error of teaching and loose habits of living in order to hold themselves in high places will be degraded. All ecclesiastical systems that have exploited men, all profiteering, the trade in human lust drink and politics will be brought to nought."

Forest View

The oyster supper at Central church last Saturday night was a success and a nice little sum was realized.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jordan and little son Howard, and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Ford and family motored to the home of Mr. Walter Jordan, Sr., in Charlotte. The men were on a hunting trip and the ladies on a real pleasure trip.

The teed and wood cutter has been busy in this neighborhood the past week. The people are preparing for Xmas. The season has been so dry, it has been hard to handle much tobacco.

Mr. Vernie Jones has treated himself to a new car. Look out girls!

Misses Pauline Marshall, Eva and Cassie Nash spent the week-end with the Misses Nash at High View and attended the oyster supper at Central church.

Mr. Wilmer Godsey and friend of Roanoke, spent Thanksgiving with his uncle, W T. Nash, and while out hunting, he came very near having a serious accident his rifle went off through his great toe.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Godsey, of Roanoke, spent Sunday at the home of W. T. Nash.

Mr. DeWitt Marshall spent Thanksgiving in Richmond with his uncle, Henry White

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Martin were in your town last week on business.

Miss Eva Harvey spent Thanksgiving with her home folks.

In Memoriam

FRANCES BRANSFORD ABBITT ROSE

Just at dawn of September nineteenth, ninteen hundred and twenty-two, the spirit of Frances Bransford Abbitt Rose took its flight from its earthly abode to her heavenly home, at St. Luke's hospital, Richmond, Va, where she had been ill for a month. Frances Abbitt Rose was the only daughter of the late Dr Julian Hammer Abbitt of Appomattox, Va, and Sallie Ballou Abbitt, who survives her, also two brothers Edward Ballou Abbitt, of Shanghai, China, and Julian Abbitt, of U. S N. In August, nineteen eighteen, Frances was married to Mr. John Daniels Rose, of Henderson, N. C., who survives her with three small children.

Of a bright and happy disposition, she easily made friends and was greatly beloved by a large circle of relatives and friends.

She was so fair and young, so happy in ministering to the needs of her husband and children, so contented in her home, always counting it her greatest joy to be with her little family, that her seemingly untimely passing cast a gloom over the entire community in which she lived

She was a faithful and loyal member of the Episcopal church and ever ready to do what she could to further its interests.

Truly, her sorrowing loved ones feel that to Frances there was "one clear call" as she "put out to sea" and met her "Pilot face to face."

Her body was brought to Henderson and tenderly born by those near and dear to her was laid to rest under a bank of flowers.

As the words of the burial service, so full of significance, read by Dr. Housfeld, fell upon the ears of the grief-stricken husband and relatives they said in their hearts: "Behold, she is not here; she is risen."

She is with the redeemed, with love ones gone before, and lives, as we love to believe, "to be still a ministering spirit."

"Father in Thy gracious keeping,
Leave we now our Frances sleeping."

One Who Loved Her.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank my friends and neighbors for their long faithful and kind attention which they have given my beloved wife during her illness and after her death. I will never be able to repay or will I ever forget their kindness.

Appomattox Lady Celebrates Her 87 Birthday

Mrs. Mildred Lewis, of Appomattox county celebrated her 87th birthday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Harvey, in Lynchburg Nov 22, 1922.

The day was pretty and everything around was in keeping with the day. Such lovely flowers to cheer her. Present on that occassion were all of her children except Mrs Bettie Megginson, who is spending the winter in Charleston, S C Mr. and Mrs. C. E Lewis, Moss Lewis and Ade Clark, the adopted daughter of Mrs. Lewis, Mrs Cornelia Anderson, all of Appomattox, Mr John Willie Lewis of Prospect, with all the grandchildren: Mr. and Mrs. Percy Royster, Misses May, Mildred, Davis and Ada Harvey Master Jimmie Harvey and Moss Lewis Lewis Harvey of Lynchburg, and Charles Davis Lewie, of Appomattox were absent. Two friends were invited to help devour the splendid dinner prepared by Mrs. Harvey which was beautifully served by Mrs Lewis Harvey and Miss Mildred Harvey.

To see the cards, letters, boxes of candy fruits and other presents too numerous to mention, one would suppose it was a girl 'sweet sixteen" instead of 87 After such a pleasant time and delicious dinner the sad word goodbye had to be said and all departed to their reepective homes feelin it was good to be there after receiving such a hearty welcome from Mr and Mrs. Harvey.
